2018 Wonderful Workplaces Named by 269 MAGAZINE

Kalamazoo, MI – Fifteen companies from throughout Southwest Michigan have been selected by 269 MAGAZINE as 2018 Wonderful Workplaces. This award celebrates the outstanding efforts made by local businesses in the region to make their organizations great places to work. Winners are recognized in the Holiday 2018 issue of 269 MAGAZINE.

“When it comes to doing what’s best for your team today, the most important thing you can do as a leader is this: Ask your team what they want. The organizations that take the time to do this, and are willing to continually adapt, are the ones attracting the best talent,” said Ron Kitchens, publisher of 269 MAGAZINE. “Thankfully, all over Southwest Michigan, there are incredible workplaces that are home to even more impressive teams. We are pleased to honor those we identified as the best-of-the-best.”

The 2018 Wonderful Workplace Awards powered by 269 MAGAZINE honor the hard work local organizations have done to carefully construct their cultures to reflect core values, support thriving communities and allow employees to soar. Here are this year’s winners:
